2008 York School District 1 Teacher of the Year

York School District 1 Superintendent, Dr. Russell Booker, introduces YCHS teacher, Leslie Templeton, as the school district's 2008 Teacher of the Year.

The Greater York Chamber of Commerce extends its congratulations to Leslie Templeton, an art teacher at York Comprehensive High School who became the 2008 York School District One Teacher of the Year on Tuesday, May 13, 2008. Ms. Templeton is a YCHS graduate and has taught art for the past 13 years in the school district.

The Chamber also extends congratulations to all the District school teachers selected for their school's Teacher of the Year award.

Carver chosen as GYCC Scholar

Ricky Carver

The Greater York Chamber of Commerce selected Ricky Carver to receive the Greater York Chamber of Commerce Scholarship. Carver plans to attend University of South Carolina in the fall.

Director's Report

York Comprehensive High School holds its annual awards ceremony to recognize the various accomplishments and achievements of graduating seniors during their academic year. This year was no exception as these seniors truly are an exceptional group. On Thursday night, May 22, 2008, The Chamber's Education Committee Chairperson, Cynthia Segretti, presented the Chamber's 2008 scholarship to Rickey Carver.

Each year the Chamber notifies the school of its intention to award a scholarship and requests the school disseminate this information to all graduating seniors. Each year the Chamber receives numerous applications from some very outstanding young people.

The Chamber's scholarship is funded through donations from Chamber members. The donations are invested in an endowment account where the interest funds the scholarship. Currently, the interest is not sufficient to meet the scholarship's annual need of $300. We need our members to seriously consider participating in the scholarship fund because "Investing in the future of a young person is good business." For more information, please contact the Chamber office.
